

Atatürk Institute Plagiarism Policy Statement

It is expected that all homework assignments, projects, lab reports, papers, theses, and examinations and any other work submitted for academic credit will be the student's own. Students should always take great care to distinguish their own ideas and knowledge from information derived from sources. The term "sources" includes not only primary and secondary material published in print or online, but also information and opinions gained directly from other people. Quotations must be placed properly within quotation marks and must be cited fully. In addition, all paraphrased material must be acknowledged completely (emphasis added).

Note: Simply showing the correct source for even a few words together taken from another source does not constitute correct acknowledgement. Those words must be set within quotation marks. When a source is shown for a sentence without quotation marks, it is assumed that this is your paraphrase; that it is your own words for an idea or information taken from the source that is indicated. If the wording in fact belongs to that source, even if the source is correctly indicated, this is considered to be plagiarism.
